

June 10, 1958

Dr. George Klein
Institute for Tumor Biology
Karolinska Institutet
Stockholm, Sweden

Dear George:

After great indecision, we decided that we were really unable to make conclusive plans for the latter part of our European trip, and that we would defer this until we saw you in Stockholm.

As things stand now, then, we are going to drive up from Copenhagen with Frits Orskov on Monday, August 4, arriving rather late in the evening. If this see us, at that time, impractical, we can start out the day before. We will want to spend at least a day or two with you in Stockholm after the Congress, but after that we will have to choose among a number of alternatives.

I hope you will be able to persuade Heden to schedule our 'cosmic microbiology' conference for not earlier than Tuesday. If the Russian delegation is dominated by medical bacteriologists, as it seemingly is, I doubt very much whether anything useful can come of it but we can make an effort.

If you perceive anything else of importance to talk about now, don't hesitate to call me collect. Alternatively, if you can and care to schedule your Minneapolis-Chicago connection (en route to Canada) for a stopover in Madison even for an hour or two, I will be glad to meet you at the airport. I know you must be too rushed to want to consider a longer stopover, but you are of course always welcome.

My home telephone is CE-3-2968 (and you might as well call station-to-station); the lab as you know is AL-5-3311, Ex. 4610.

Yours,

Joshua Lederberg

As things stand now, our itinerary is:

Lv. NY 1830 Flight PAA-66
Fri July 25

Paris 1700 SK566
Sat Aug 2

Arr Paris 1105
Sat. July 26

Arr Copenhagen
1950

(c/o Ephrussi at Gif-sur-Yvette
for weekend
c/o Lwoff at the Abbe Royaumont
Mon-Sat)

(c/o F. Orskov-State Serum Inst)

Copenhagen--Stockholm by car Mon Aug 4.